Rustic Tent Camping

Lake Metroparks offers a camping "rustic" experience for small groups of up to eight people staying in tents. Campers must hike or paddle to the campsites. The sites are set back from the developed areas of the parks from about ¼-mile to more than a mile. Each location is different, and there is only one campsite per park to provide a quiet, intimate natural experience. There is a lakeside site on Hidden Lake, a site high on the bluffs over the Grand River, a creek site along Big Creek and two different riverside sites along the Grand River;

Baker Road Park, Girdled Road Reservation, Hidden Lake, River Road Park, Riverview Park.

Each site has a designated area to pitch a tent, a place to build a fire, a grill and a picnic table. The sites do not have restrooms, running water or trash cans. Campers are expected to practice a "leave no trace" camping ethic. Sites are available from May 1 until October 31 each year and subject to temporary closure due to high water or extremely wet conditions.

Reservable tent camping sites are available May 1 through October 31. Reservations can be made up to 3 pm one day prior to arrival. There is a limit of three outstanding permits at one time with a three night limit on each reservation. The renter must be 21 years of age or older. Sites are $10 per night for Lake County residents; $20 per night for out-of-county visitors.

Reserve a campsite online at lakemetroparks.com. Reservations may also be made by calling Lake Metroparks Registration Department at 440-639-7275, Monday through Friday from 8 am to 4:30 pm.

Restaurants

There's lots that's good to eat here in Lake County, where in Mentor alone more than 100 restaurants have choices ranging from Mexican to fondue, fine dining to fast food. Bisected by two freeways, Lake County is an easy place to reach and negotiate — a clear attraction for those coming here to eat. Many chefs have embraced the good fresh produce available from farmers within the county, building menus around their peaches to lettuce, eggs to tomatoes. Whether it's breakfast at any time of day, hummus made from olives planted by the owners' granddad, grilled cheese beyond imagination or fresh Lake Erie perch, adventures in good eating await in Lake County.

Wineries

When one talks about wines, vineyards and tourism in Lake County, it is important to note that the geography of the region is critical to its past and to its future. The industry exists, almost exclusively, because of Lake Erie and the deep gorge known as the Grand River Valley. Our lake provides the general temperature moderation and the river valley air and water drainage which allow farmers to grow both world class vinifera like Riesling, Chardonnays and Pinot noir as well as the ever popular native varieties and of course, our luscious ice wines.

Lake County is where the Grand River Valley begins. It is the gateway for the tens of thousands of monthly visitors who come from the east, west and south. The wineries here have helped sell hotel rooms, build bed and breakfast businesses and increase the profitability of dozens of restaurants and regional attractions.

The 'new' regional industry also has grown because of the entrepreneurial spirit of several 'founding fathers' who established a record of vineyard success and marketing prowess that grew the number of wineries from a couple in the area to over 25 today. In addition to the original Debonne' Vineyards in Madison, nearby the Grand River Cellars, St Joseph Vineyards, along with independent growers like Tim Frania and John Carlo in Lake County have encouraged dozens of other successful operations. Just down the road are the Ferrantes, Harpersfield, Laurello, Virant and others soon to open.

The Valley also contributes to 'image enhancement' of our communities and our county. It produces 65% of all grapes grown in the state, and annually about 85% of the state and national gold medals, facts noticed by the national media. GRV has claimed national recognition from Orbitz, Midwest Living Magazine, the Travel Channel and Fox News.

Collaboration is one more cornerstone of the region's wine success. The Grand River Valley Vintners' wineries are competitors for sure, but each recognized the value of cooperative marketing and promotion early on.

As the grape and wine community in northeast Ohio continues to grow and prosper, Lake County's position as the gateway to 'all things wine' will serve its citizens and its broader tourism community many years into the future.

Headlands State Park

Lake Erie

Lake Erie and its tributaries dominate Lake County's angling opportunities. That's not necessarily a bad thing, either, as the great lake's Central Basin has a long and storied history of providing outstanding fishing for walleye, smallmouth bass, steelhead trout and yellow perch.

Likewise, such tributaries as the Grand River and the Chagrin River have earned their stripes as go-to destinations for lake-run steelhead. They have received rave reviews in various national outdoors magazines such as "In-Fisherman" and "Field & Stream." And for those anglers without a vessel to ply the waters of Lake Erie there are any number of land-based locations in the county where a person can toss a line into Lake Erie.

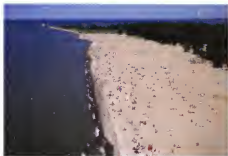

Lake County boasts of having the finest natural small boat harbor on the Great Lakes – the Mentor Lagoons. Small boat owners and anglers can find a wealth of public and private launching facilities there as well as on both the Grand and Chagrin rivers.

And you don't have to be a professional angler to catch fish like one as Lake County is the home port to some of the finest Lake Erie licensed charter fishing captains.

Sports & Outdoors

With approximately 30 miles of Lake Erie shoreline at its disposal, Lake County offers sun-bathers and swimmers ample opportunity to enjoy themselves. Among the possibilities are Headlands Beach State Park with its one-mile-long sandy beach, Lake Metroparks' Fairport Harbor Lakefront Park and the new 139-acre Lake Erie Bluffs Park that includes a stunning view of Lake Erie along with a 1,300-foot stretch of secreted beach. Meanwhile, Mentor Lagoons also offers 1 1/2 miles of undeveloped beach front.

Life along the south shore of Lake Erie is a plus for those who relish the chance to observe resident and migrating birds. That's because waterfowl seasonally cruise their way along and across Lake Erie while raptors and songbirds utilize the coast to rest and refresh themselves before heading south in autumn and back home in the spring. Some of the choicest viewing areas include Headlands Beach State Park and Headlands Dunes State Nature Preserve, the Mentor Marsh State Nature Preserve, Mentor Lagoons Nature Preserve, Lake Metroparks' Veterans Park as well as Chagrin River Park, and the Eastlake CEI Seawall.

The award-winning and nationally recognized Lake Metroparks is Lake County's parks system that incorporates more than 36 units open to the public along with other holdings designed to preserve and protect natural resources. Among some of the more popular parks are the agency's Farmpark - a farm-themed educational and fun place for people of all ages, Fairport Harbor Lakefront Park along Lake Erie, Chagrin River Park, Chapin Forest where, in winter, cross-country skis and snowshoes are available for use on groomed trails, Penitentiary Glen Reservation with its Kevin P. Clinton Wildlife Center where staff and volunteers care for orphaned and injured wild animals, the massive 935-acre Girdled Road Reservation, the truly remote 845-acre Hell Hollow Wilderness Area, as well as two public golf courses, two cabin rentals, and the 4.8-mile-long Greenway Corridor for walkers, joggers and cyclists.
